

CONFIDENTIALITY STATEMENT

As an employee of HPRC or a student intern, you may develop, use, or maintain patient, personnel, health, financial (to include payroll), and/or administrative records. Information from these records in any form, to include paper records, oral communications, recordings, and electronic displays, is strictly confidential. Access to this information is permitted only on a need-to-know basis.

Employees, students, and any other user of information from records will respect and preserve the privacy and confidentiality of that information. Violations include, but are not limited to:

- Accessing information that is not within the scope of your job duties
- Misusing, disclosing without proper authorization, or altering patient, personnel, health financial, or administrative records
- Improperly disclosing (at the sole discretion of HPRC) to another person your password for accessing electronic or computer information or records
- Improperly disclosing (at the sole discretion of HPRC) another person's password for accessing electronic or computer information or records
- Leaving a computer unattended while signed on and logged into a patient, personnel, health, financial, or administrative record (unless a password protected screen saver is engaged)
- Attempting to access records for which you do not have a need to know

Violation of the provisions of this statement will constitute grounds for appropriate disciplinary action, up to and including termination or immediate dismissal from the student internship.

I have read and agree to comply with the terms of this statement.
